Electronade™ Privacy Policy

Effective Date: September 9, 2026 | Last Updated: September 9, 2026

Electronade™ ("Electronade," "we," "us," or "our") respects your privacy and is committed to protecting the personal information you provide when you visit our website, purchase our products, communicate with us, or participate in our programs. This Privacy Policy explains what information we may collect, how we use it, when we may share it, and the choices available to you.

1. Information We Collect

We may collect information that you voluntarily provide to us, including your name, email address, telephone number, mailing or billing address, shipping information, information submitted through contact forms, retailer/wholesale/distributor inquiries, Electronade Ambassador applications, investor or business inquiries, newsletter or promotional signups, customer service communications, and information provided when entering promotions, surveys, contests, or other programs. If purchases are available through our website, payment information may be processed by third-party payment processors. Electronade may not directly receive or store complete payment card information.

2. Information Collected Automatically

When you visit our website, certain information may be collected automatically, such as IP address, browser and device type, operating system, pages viewed, referring websites, approximate location derived from your IP address, date and time of visits, and website interactions. We and our service providers may use cookies, pixels, analytics technologies, and similar tools to collect this information.

3. How We Use Information

We may use collected information to operate and improve the Electronade website; process and fulfill orders; communicate regarding purchases or inquiries; respond to customer service requests; review ambassador, retailer, wholesale, and distributor applications; communicate with potential business partners; send marketing or promotional communications when permitted; personalize website experiences; measure website traffic and advertising performance; detect fraud, misuse, or security threats; maintain business records; and comply with applicable laws and legal obligations.

4. Cookies and Similar Technologies

Our website may use cookies and similar technologies to enable website functionality, remember preferences, understand how visitors use our website, and support advertising and marketing activities. Some cookies may be provided by third-party services used on our website. You may be able to manage cookies through your browser settings or through cookie controls provided on our website.

5. Analytics and Advertising

We may use third-party analytics, advertising, and social-media services to understand website usage, measure advertising effectiveness, and promote Electronade products. These providers may collect information about your interactions with our website according to their own privacy practices.

6. How We Share Information

We do not sell personal information for money. We may share personal information when reasonably necessary with service providers that assist us with website hosting, e-commerce, payment processing, shipping, email and marketing, advertising and analytics, customer support, fraud prevention, security, and professional services. We may also disclose information when required by law or in connection with a business transaction.

7. Marketing Communications

If you subscribe to Electronade marketing communications, we may send you information about products, launches, promotions, events, and other Electronade news. You may unsubscribe from promotional emails at any time by using the unsubscribe link contained in those communications.

8. Third-Party Websites and Services

Our website may contain links to websites or services operated by third parties. Electronade is not responsible for their privacy practices, security, or content.

9. Data Security

We use reasonable administrative, technical, and organizational measures designed to protect personal information. However, no website, electronic transmission, or information-storage system can be guaranteed to be completely secure.

10. Data Retention

We may retain personal information for as long as reasonably necessary to fulfill the purposes described in this Privacy Policy, maintain records, resolve disputes, enforce agreements, and satisfy legal, tax, accounting, or regulatory obligations.

11. Children's Privacy

The Electronade website and products are not intended to collect personal information directly from children under 13. We do not knowingly collect such information without appropriate parental or legal authorization.

12. U.S. State Privacy Rights

Residents of certain U.S. states may have privacy rights under applicable law, including rights to access, correct, delete, or obtain certain personal information and opt out of certain targeted advertising, sharing, or sales where applicable. We will process eligible requests in accordance with applicable law.

13. International Visitors

If you access our website from outside the United States, information you provide may be transferred to, processed, or stored in the United States or other countries where our service providers operate.

14. Changes to This Privacy Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy periodically. When we update it, we will revise the "Last Updated" date at the top of this page.
